

ASSIGNMENT SUBMISSION – Literature Review (Chapter 3)

End product:

A final version of the literature review on the key concepts of your project.

How to:

1. Start with the template made available to you (eFundi Resources).
2. You may study example projects from preceding years made available to you (eFundi Resources).
3. Hand in versions of this chapter before the due date – to enable your study leader to provide you with feedback (Assignment submission).
4. Diligently work on this feedback to improve your submission.

Note: In all instances your submission date will fall on a Monday morning – to allow you to finalise it over the weekend. Your study leader will supply you with feedback by Thursday afternoon of the same week. Deviations may be discussed with your study leader. In reality, you will need more than one cycle of submission. The assignment is set up as such that the deadline indicates the last opportunity for feedback. A re-submission will then be allowed one week later – indicating the version that will be marked. Keep in mind that if you do not submit on the deadline, you will forfeit the opportunity.

Important:

You should be comfortable regarding the use of EndNote (for referencing) by now.

Resources:

- A. Chapter guidelines (attachment).
- B. Turnitin testing (assignment).
- C. Marksheet to be employed to mark this submission (attachment).